

Summary of climate alarm's 12 points

Consider the commonly peddled summary points of climate alarm: Supposedly, humanity and Earth are confronted by unusually high global temperatures. This supposedly proves unusual global warming. Purported correlation of rising temperatures and rising CO₂ shows CO₂ drives temperature. This is claimed to be caused by increased CO₂ through greenhouse gas warming theory. The increase in CO₂ is due to human production of CO₂. There is a scientific consensus world-wide. That supposed consensus forecasts catastrophic impacts. Climate alarm is purported as justified by scientific data of supposedly catastrophic effects. Global warming can be prevented. Human production of CO₂ must be reduced, Imposing higher costs on energy produced from fuels containing carbon will reduce their use. Supposedly there is world-wide political agreement supporting this.

Earth's Reality Emerges to expose unfounded alarm

Applying climate science to the summary of climate alarm shows:

- Supposedly, humanity and Earth are confronted by unusually high global temperatures: FALSE
- This supposedly proves unusual global warming: FALSE
- Purported correlation of rising temperatures and rising CO₂ shows CO₂ drives temperature: FALSE
- This is claimed to be caused by increased CO₂ through greenhouse gas warming theory: FALSE
- The increase in CO₂ is due to human production of CO₂: FALSE
- There is a scientific consensus world-wide: FALSE
- That supposed consensus forecasts catastrophic impacts: FALSE
- Climate alarm is purported as justified by scientific data of supposedly catastrophic effects: FALSE
- Global warming can be prevented: FALSE
- Human production of CO₂ must be reduced: FALSE
- Imposing higher costs on energy produced from fuels containing carbon will reduce their use: TRUE
- Supposedly there is world-wide political agreement supporting this: FALSE

There is not one scrap of evidence that human production of carbon dioxide caused higher global temperatures. None.

There is much evidence human activity does not cause global warming and much scientific proof of global warming's enormous benefits.
