Dear Professor Byrne.

Re: Formal complaint

Please refer to the accompanying copy of the cover letter introducing my formal complaint to the Australian Research Council.

After eight years of independent investigation I draw to your attention my comprehensive and factual complaint made with extensive supporting documentation. It confirms that politicised claims that hydrocarbon fuels affect global climate or climate variability are unfounded and contradict empirical evidence.

Yet my understanding is that ARC funding has directly and/or indirectly supported academics making such claims. Unless ARC research can provide clear empirical evidence within a logical framework proving that carbon dioxide from human activity causes climate change, I please request that ARC cease funding any and all activity corrupting Australian science.

The misrepresentation of climate and science is hurting science, humanity and our precious natural environment.

I look forward to your reply and am available to meet with you to assist in restoring scientific integrity.

Yours sincerely,
