To: Patrick Ferry <P.Ferry@bom.gov.au>

Dear Patrick:

Further to my earlier email, I've re-read Vicki Middleton's letter dated March 8th, 2013.

I am able to discern BOM's needs from her letter. Perhaps it may be more appropriate for you and I to discuss her letter and BOM's needs and then discuss ways of meeting BOM's needs and my needs.

Would it be possible please for me to call you tomorrow, Friday, March 15th, 2013 and if so when would you be available?

Malcolm

Dear Patrick:

Thank you for your letter by email dated March 8th, 2013.

My advice in my letter to you dated February 28th would have minimised effort, time and resources needed by the BOM to fulfil my lawful request made as a taxpayer and citizen of Australia and my legal request made under Freedom of Information legislation.

My request complied fully with the legislation.

So that I can make an informed and considered response could you please advise the grounds upon which my request has been refused?

Further, could you please advise of BOM's needs that led to BOM's refusal and offer suggestions to facilitate fulfilment by the Bureau of my needs together with BOM's needs.

I look forward to receiving your advice.

Best wishes,

Malcolm

Dear Mr Roberts,

Please find attached a letter notifying you of the Bureau's intention to refuse your request under s.24AA of the FOI Act. Before a final decision is made, you have 14 days consultation period in which time you may choose to revised your request, withdraw your request, or inform us that you do not wish to do either.

I look forward to hearing from you to discuss further.

Kind regards

Patrick

Subject: Your reference 30/5693 (Re: FOI Request [SEC=UNCLASSIFIED])

Dear Patrick.

Re: Your reference 30/5693

Thank you for your letter dated February 20th, 2013 received as an email attachment below.

This opportunity is taken to emphasise that, as stated in my FOI request, I seek BOM documents proving causation of global warming (aka global climate change) by human production of carbon dioxide, CO2.

As stated in my letter dated February 12th, 2013 that entails providing any document(s) that contain empirical scientific evidence and logical scientific reasoning proving causation. I do not seek documents, for example, on issues such as whether or not CO2 is warmed by longwave radiation. I accept that as fact. I am not seeking evidence on atmospheric temperature variations. I accept that global atmospheric temperatures fell modestly from 1958 through 1976 and then rose modestly from 1976 through 1998 with subsequent ongoing stasis for the last 15 years and possible start of cooling since 2006. Instead, I am seeking specific evidence and reasoning proving causation of global climate change by human production of CO2.

Thank you,

Malcolm-Ieuan: Roberts.
