SUBJECT: McLEAN REVEALS IPCC NON-SCIENCE

Senator Wong:

Further to my facsimile letter yesterday please find accompanying paper by John McLean entitled 'Prejudiced Authors, Prejudiced Findings. Did the UN bias its attribution of "global warming" to humankind?'

This paper cannot be reasonably refuted since it simply presents IPCC data provided by the IPCC. It's conclusions are stark and obvious: the IPCC's claim that human action caused the modest global warming from the mid-1970's through to around 1998 is NOT supported by science.

A colour copy of McLean's article was mailed to you by Australia Post Registered Post on Friday, July 31, 2009. I hope your office has been able to collect that package from the Parliament House Post Office and that you read the other papers enclosed therein and the colour chart provided.

As you are a lawyer by training, I'm confident you will, after reading McLean, understand his objective evidence makes the government's Emissions Trading Scheme (ETS) redundant. Your continued support for any ETS would thus be contrary to the science and not honest.

I consider the documents to be vitally important to Australia's environmental and economic security. I remain available to answer your questions.
