SUBJECT: REPLACING IPCC MISREPRESENTATIONS

Senator Wong:

Further to my recent facsimile letters please find accompanying paper by John McLean entitled 'Peer Review? What Peer Review? Failures of Scrutiny in the UN's Fourth Assessment Report'.

This paper was NOT part of the package mailed to you Friday, 31.07.09.

The Prime Minister has stated that your government's Emissions Trading Scheme (ETS) is based on IPCC reports and advice. I have read much about the IPCC, especially from IPCC scientists. Consequently, the PM's statements trigger my disappointment and alarm because they do not meet my needs for integrity.

McLean's paper cannot be reasonably refuted since it simply presents IPCC data provided by the IPCC. His paper uses hard fact to expose the IPCC's unfounded inferences. Reading the paper leads to a stark and obvious conclusion: the IPCC's core claim that human action caused the modest global warming from the mid-1970's through to around 1998 is NOT supported by science.

The IPCC's own data reveal the IPCC contradicts its own protocols and does not follow scientific process. It contradicts scientific process.

To continue to propose any ETS or climate/carbon tax would be contrary to the science and not honest. Worse, although it will not change climate, nor provide any benefit to Australia, an ETS or climate/carbon tax will damage Australia.

I consider the documents to be vitally important to Australia's environmental and economic security. I remain available to answer your questions.
